

"Maquette de Ponton"

Although most bone ships were built by French prisoners of war during the Coalition Wars and the Napoleonic Wars (1792 - 1815) in England, the proportion of bone ship models still available in French-speaking countries, especially in France, is still underrepresented on my website. This is partly due to the fact that this website is in English, and partly due to the fact that I haven't had the time to close this gap on my website. Therefore I have made the attempt to get an insight by using the search words "Maquette de Ponton" to identify where bone ships can be found in France. This is often the case in galleries, at auctions. The search results are listed with the corresponding links.
